

Educate the Educator: Teaching Across Disciplines with Artwork

Wednesday, October 14th

10:00-11:30 OR 2:30-4:00

Image: Mark Messersmith, Lost Ghosts, 2022.
Oil on canvas with carved wooden parts and mixed media predella boxes, 82 x 66 in.
Weatherspoon Art Museum. Gift of the artist;
2025.14ab © Mark Messersmith, photograph
courtesy of the artist

Join us at the Weatherspoon Art Museum for a free workshop with museum education expert Ray Williams. This workshop will offer multiple entry points to teaching with artwork, with the goal of enhancing responsive teaching practices. Instructors from all disciplines are welcome! RSVP required: RSVP here.

About the Facilitator

Ray Williams recently retired from his role as director of education and academic affairs at UT-Austin's Blanton Museum of Art. He has held similar leadership roles at UNC's Ackland Art Museum, the Smithsonian's National Museum of Asian Art, and the Harvard Art Museums. Teaching from original works of art has been a constant in his career, and he has facilitated workshops for educators at museums across the country. Ray holds an MA in Art History from UNC-Chapel Hill, and an EdM from Harvard.

WEATHERSPOON
ART MUSEUM

Questions?
kmgoodkin@uncg.edu