awarded her the College of Law’s Res Ipsa Loquitur Outstanding Faculty Award. At its commencement, the Class of 2018 2015, the College of Law Student Bar Association honored Gouldin with the Meredith Professors to receive a Teaching Recognition Award. In 2014 and service, scholarship, and stewardship.

Barbara Croll Fought is an associate professor in the Department of Broadcast and Digital Journalism in the S.J. Quinney School of Public Communications. She teaches radio and television writing, reporting and producing, and communications law. What she loves about being a faculty member is the teaching, and she is most proud to have received the Teaching Excellence Award from the Class of 1995. In 2013, Fought was named a Laurea) and L. Douglas Meredith Professor of Teaching Excellence, a three-year appointment. She is currently researching reporters’ use of the Internet. You can read her blog at readyreportersyr.edu and follow her @readyreporter. Her research interests focus on how journalists and citizens access information, including access to public documents and meetings. She moderates an internet group, FOI-L, for discussion of state and local freedom of information issues.

Katie Cadwell is an assistant professor in the Department of Biomedical & Chemical Engineering and the chemical engineering undergraduate program director in the College of Engineering and Computer Science. Her teaching interests include mass and energy balances, chemical engineering thermodynamics, chemical engineering laboratories (technical communication and unit operations), and chemical process safety. Cadwell is a recipient of the 2015 Teaching Recognition Award from the Laurea) and L. Douglas Meredith Professorship Program; the 2015 Syracuse University Chancellor’s Awards for Public Engagement and Scholarship: Inspiration Award; the 2014 Syracuse University College of Engineering and Computer Science Dean’s Award for Excellence in Engineering Education, and was named the 2014 Technology Alliance of Central New York College Technology Educator of the Year.

Lauryn Gouldin is an associate professor and the associate dean for research in the College of Law. She teaches constitutional criminal procedure, criminal law, evidence, constitutional law, and criminal justice reform. Her scholarship focuses on the Fourth Amendment, pretrial detention and bail reform, and judicial decision making. In 2015, in recognition of her excellence in teaching, Gouldin was selected by the Laurea) and L. Douglas Meredith Professors to receive a Teaching Recognition Award. In 2014 and 2015, the College of Law Student Bar Association honored Gouldin with the Outstanding Faculty Award. At its commencement, the Class of 2018 awarded her the College of Law’s Rees Loquitor Award for outstanding service, scholarship, and stewardship.

Fought is the Steven Becker Professor of Supply Chain Management in the Department of Supply Chain Management in the Martin J. Whitman School of Management. He is the recipient of the 2021 Laura) and L. Douglas Meredith Professor of Teaching Excellence and presently serves as the Whitman Research Fellow. Kazaz’s research interests include the integration of supply chain operations (purchasing, production, distribution), marketing (pricing, market segmentation), and finance (managing economic/不准 currency risks, hedging), with a special interest in managing uncertainty and risk (exchange-rate fluctuations, supply disruptions, lead time uncertainty, quality uncertainty, demand fluctuations) in global supply chains. He served as a Whitman Teaching Fellow from 2010 to 2012 and is the recipient of the first-ever Whitman School of Management Teaching Innovation Award in 2011.

Burak Kazaz is the Steven Becker Professor of Supply Chain Management in the Department of Supply Chain Management in the Martin J. Whitman School of Management. He is the recipient of the 2021 Laura) and L. Douglas Meredith Professor of Teaching Excellence and presently serves as the Whitman Research Fellow. Kazaz’s research interests include the integration of supply chain operations (purchasing, production, distribution), marketing (pricing, market segmentation), and finance (managing economic/不准 currency risks, hedging), with a special interest in managing uncertainty and risk (exchange-rate fluctuations, supply disruptions, lead time uncertainty, quality uncertainty, demand fluctuations) in global supply chains. He served as a Whitman Teaching Fellow from 2010 to 2012 and is the recipient of the first-ever Whitman School of Management Teaching Innovation Award in 2011.

James Haywood Rolling, Jr. is a dual professor of art education and teaching and leadership in the School of Art in the College of Visual and Performing Arts and the Department of Teaching and Leadership in the School of Education, respectively, as well as the chair of art education. Rolling’s research interests include arts-based research, creative leadership, urban education, narrative research methods, and the study of identity. Rolling is a 2011 recipient of the Teaching Recognition Award by the Laurea) and L. Douglas Meredith Professors program and the 2014 recipient of the National Higher Education Art Education Award for outstanding service and achievement of national significance. Rolling has served on the board of directors of the National Art Education Association (NAEA) and currently serves as commissioner-at-large on the new NAEA Research Commission. He is presently the editor of Art Education, the official bi-monthly journal of the NAEA.

Lauryn Gouldin

Katie Cadwell

Lauren Rolling

Burak Kazaz

New Faculty Orientation

Wednesday, August 22, 2018
8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Sheraton Syracuse University Hotel & Conference Center

Syracuse University
Office of Academic Affairs

FEATURED PANELISTS:
THE TEACHING CULTURE AT SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Barbara Croll Fought

Katie Cadwell

Lauryn Gouldin

James Haywood Rolling, Jr.

Burak Kazaz

Lauren Rolling

Silvio Torres-Saillant

New Faculty Orientation
New Faculty Orientation

Program of Events

8:30 a.m.  Registration and breakfast
9:00 a.m.  Welcome
         Kent Syverud
         Chancellor and President
         LaVonda N. Reed
         Associate Provost for Faculty Affairs
         Regency Ballroom
9:45 a.m.  Break Out Session One
         Building your Team
         Marie Garland
         Executive Director
         Center for Faculty Leadership and Professional Development
         Adams Room
         Funding in the Arts and Humanities
         LeKita Scott Dawkins
         Director
         Foundation Relations
         Harrison Room
         Great Courses Start with Great Design
         Martha Diede
         Director
         Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence
         Comstock Ballroom C

10:45 a.m.  Break Out Session Two Syracuse University Libraries: Your Essential Resource
             Melinda Dermody
             Access and Resource Sharing
             University Libraries
             Scott Warren
             Associate Dean for Research and Scholarship
             University Libraries
             Adams Room
             Persuading Struggling Students to Adopt Effective Learning Strategies
             Margaret Uzdansky
             Director
             Center for Learning and Student Success (CLASS)
             Harrison Room
             Technology-enhanced Teaching and Learning
             Michael Morrison
             Associate Director, Academic Service Centers ITS
             Comstock Ballroom C
             An Exciting Time at Syracuse University
             Michele G. Wheatley
             Vice Chancellor and Provost
             Regency Ballroom

12:15 p.m.  Lunch and Resource Fair
             Regency Ballroom

1:15 p.m.  Plenary Panel:
             The Teaching Culture at Syracuse University
             Facilitator:
             Barbara Croll Fought
             Laura J. and L. Douglas Meredith Professor of Teaching Excellence
             S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications
             Faculty panelists:
             Katie Cadwell
             Assistant Professor, Biomedical & Chemical Engineering
             Romita Ray
             Associate Professor of Art History and Chair of the Department of Art and Music Histories
             Burak Kazaz
             Professor, Supply Chain Management
             James Haywood Rolling, Jr.
             Professor of Art Education
             Silvio Torres-Saillant
             Professor, English

2:15 p.m.  Smiley!
             Assemble for a "class photo"
             Main Lobby

2:45 p.m.  Break Out Session Three
             Navigating the Review and Reappointment Process: Non-Tenure-Track Faculty
             Amy Falkner
             Sr. Associate Dean,
             S. I. Newhouse School of Public Communications
             Gerry Greenberg
             Sr. Associate Dean
             College of Arts and Sciences
             Adams Room
             Resources for Obtaining Funding at Syracuse University
             Christina Leigh Docteur
             Director, Proposal Support Services
             Office of Research
             Comstock Ballroom C

3:45 p.m.  Break Out Session Four
             Creative Ways to Assess Student Learning
             Gerald S. Edmonds
             Sr. Assistant Provost
             Office of Academic Affairs
             Laura Harrington
             Associate Director for Institutional Effectiveness and Assessment (IEA)
             Amanda Johnson Sanguillano
             Assessment Associate, IEA
             Harrison Room
             The Path to Tenure and Promotion
             LaVonda N. Reed
             Associate Provost for Faculty Affairs and Professor of Law
             Comstock Ballroom C

The Office of Academic Affairs is responsible for maintaining the University's academic standards in collaboration with the schools and colleges and their respective faculties. The associate provost for faculty affairs oversees faculty hiring, professional development and recognition, and provides information, resources, and guidance across the academic career.